Makawao Literary Society Holds Forth. Telephone Company Continues to Prosper—Tar and Feather Party of Long Ago—Ten Days Quarantine.

MAUI, Oct. 4.—During Friday evening, September 27th, a large gathering of people from several plantation villages completely filled the parlors and verandas of the Gilhus mansion at Hamakua-poko, the occasion being the September meeting of the Makawao Literary Society. The program presented was as follows:

1. Duet, violin and piano. Messrs. Gilhus and Atwater.
2. Tableau and Dialogue—"Frost King and Summer Queen."
3. Recitation, by Fanny Engle.
4. Solo, by Miss Kate Fleming.
5. Trio, by Messrs. Lindsay, Nicoll and Chas. Baldwin.
6. A farce, in one act, entitled, "A Mysterious Disappearance," with the following dramatic personae:

Mr. Cleverly..... W. S. Nicoll
Dixon Dolby..... D. C. Lindsay
Captain Bobstay..... C. H. Diekey
Carol Carrots..... W. O. Atken
Mrs. Cleverly..... Miss Hattie Watson
Nellie Cleverly..... Miss Nellie Smith
Percy Grievous..... Mrs. S. E. Taylor

The different characters were well represented and the humor of the sketch was frequently applauded.

During Sunday morning, September 29th, a suicide and probable murder took place at Kamsale, Kula. D. B. Kamaukuli, a native 60 years old was found dead, hanging by a rope attached to a rafter of one of the rooms of his house. On the floor of an adjoining apartment the lifeless body of Mileka, an Hawaiian woman of some forty years, was also discovered. Her face was much swollen and her throat bore marks of strangulation. Both were most carefully dressed, the man in black with a red handkerchief covering his head, and the woman in spotless white. There's a romance connected with the case. The pair had agreed to marry on the day before, the 28th, but instead of a wedding ceremony a quarrel occurred, arising from the discovery by Mileka that Kamaukuli had recently made over his property to his two daughters. They parted in anger and the next morning were found dead. The coroner's jury failed to agree upon a verdict concerning the death of the woman.

Miss Aluli Iia and Charles Kamans, of Waiehu, were married on Wednesday, October 2d, at Maunaloa Seminary by Rev. Samuel Kapu, of Wailuku.

During Friday evening, the 4th instant, a public meeting of Maui citizens was held at Wailuku court house. The substance of the business transacted was the indorsement of a resolution recently passed by the Maui Board of Health, reducing the quarantine of passengers arriving on the island to ten days.

The trustees of the Maui Telephone Company held a quarterly meeting at Paia plantation office Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 1st. The company continues to be most prosperous, having more applications than instruments, and paying regular monthly dividends of one per cent.

Appropos of tar and feathers, some fourteen or fifteen years ago a German was taken from the Wailuku hotel in the "wild waste and middle of the night" and given a black and feathery coat. It was said that some of the most prominent citizens of Wailuku were concerned in the matter, and felt justified owing to the horrible nature of the crime charged against the Teuton.

FREIGHT FOR OTHER ISLANDS.

Report of Committee to Special Meeting of Health Board.

SALOON RESTRICTIONS RESCINDED.

City Divided into Three Inspection Districts—Health Committee Named for Hana District—Nununu Stream to be Dredged—License for Russian Doctor.

A special meeting of the Board of Health was held Saturday to hear the report of the committee appointed to consider the matter of freight shipments to the other islands as suggested by resolutions from the Chamber of Commerce.

The report was signed by Dr. F. R. Day, Dr. J. K. Smith, Theo. F. Lansing, and is as follows:

Shipments to be permitted of all goods from American, European and Australian ports, same being new and in merchantable condition, to be shipped in following manner:

As style of packing readily discloses the contents, we believe the following named articles can be shipped:

WITHOUT PERMITS.
Lime, plaster, cement, oils in barrels and drums, iron and steel (bars and bundles), iron pipe, powder, machinery, fence wire, corrugated iron, fertilizer, doors and windows, rope in coils, sewing machines, plows, agricultural implements, stoves, building brick, fire brick, carriages and wagons, flour, grain, hay, lumber, shingles, nails, rice, bags (new in bales), coal (in bulk), ice (unpacked).

ON SPECIAL PERMITS.

Coal in bags, salt (imported or made and stored here prior to cholera outbreak), medical supplies, aerated waters (of local manufacture).

All other goods packed as heretofore determined by the Board, under supervision of inspectors.

Shipments to be permitted of all goods from ports in Japan and China, excepting all liquors, groceries, provisions or other articles of food, unless herein enumerated, viz.: Beans (dried) usually packed in 50 or 100-pound bags; bean stick, bamboo sprouts hermetically sealed in 2-pound cans, ginger preserved in jars, peanut oil, samahu, shrimps, dried California, only vermicelli, tea, all to be packed under supervision of inspectors. No goods to be allowed shipment except from duly licensed firms.

NOT TO BE ALLOWED.

No second hand clothing, bedding, furniture, trunks or other personal effects to be allowed shipment.

Board of Health to have inspectors at receiving wharves to supervise freight offered.

As inspector's seal we submit a label, the blank to be filled out with shipper's name and inspector's signature; and same to be pasted on every package as soon as ready for shipment.

The matters of guards and inspections were next brought up for consideration. It was agreed to divide the city into three inspection districts, as follows:

1. All that portion west of the Nuuanu stream.
2. All that portion between Nuuanu stream and a line drawn from the sea through Alakea street, Emma street and Punchbowl street to Panoa, this to include Panoa.
3. All that portion east of the second district.

In this agreement it was decided that the matter of guarding the valleys should be continued.

As the necessity for employing a large number of inspectors had ceased, the Board ordered that the services of the twenty-one inspectors be dispensed with, and three paid inspectors employed to do the required work at $75 per month each.

The guards at Kaukiki street bridges were ordered taken off.

The request of liquor dealers, to be allowed to open at night, was granted. The regulations requiring the closing of saloons at night were ordered rescinded, action to take effect Monday.

The request of the Hana citizens, that a separate health committee be appointed for their district, was granted, and Dr. McGettigan, Messrs. Iosepa, Gjerdrum, O. Unna, Gravemeyer, N. Omsted and J. K. Hanuna were appointed.

The report of the committee on contaminated soil was adopted. The application of Dr. Kryshlovich, a recent arrival from Russia, for a license to practice was considered. Letters recommending the issuing of a license to him were ordered sent the Minister of the Interior.

The Board recommended that the dredger be set to work at the mouth of the Nuuanu stream from the fish market up to King street bridge, and that the dredgings be emptied on the flat west of the stream.

The expenses incurred in carrying out the work of inspection will be borne by the merchants. The inspectors will be stationed in different stores and throughout the city, districts having been assigned by Messrs. T. F. Lansing and J. T. Waterhouse, under whose supervision the inspection will be carried out. The inspectors begin their duties this morning. Mr. Watson is the chief of the inspectors.

Natural Misunderstanding.

According to the Hanaford Journal, a gentleman of that city was some miles outside of the city, when a rut came off the axle of his buggy. He had halted for repairs, and was in no little trouble. Finally a Portuguese came along, and the gentleman bailed him to ask if he had a monkey wrench. The man was angry on the instant.

"What for you insult me? I no keeps da monkey wrench. I keeps da sheep ranch."
